

The Mask of Inanna

themaskofinanna.com

Audio drama about pirate radio, mystery and enormous speed bumps

Presented by Alicia E. Goranson and The Post-Meridian Radio Players

The Mask of Inanna is the mystery of Leonard Allen, host of the popular 1950's radio horror show "After Dark", who is taken out of retirement by a mysterious society to finish his show over pirate radio broadcast from a New England lighthouse. Every episode is two shows in one: Allen's story and an episode of the original "After Dark!"

Episodes are available at: themaskofinanna.com

From The Post-Meridian Radio Players and written by Lambda Literary Award Finalist, Alicia E. Goranson

"The Mask of Inanna takes all the toys in the audio drama box and uses them to create something completely original."

—Pete Milan, Pendant Productions